VOL. VIII. NO. 69 — FRESNO, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1894 — PRICE—5 CENTS

FROM COREA TO CHINA

The Seat of War May Be Transferred.

CHINESE FORCES DEMORALIZED

Believed That European Powers Will Interfere Unless the War Ceases Soon.

WASHINGTON, September 19. — The confirmatory news received today by Secretary Gresham of the defeat of the Chinese by land and sea, with notice that telegraphic communication between Pekin and Corea had been shut off by the Japanese, is taken here as an evidence that the Chinese forces are in a miserable plight. The small remnant of an army in Corea is cut off from reinforcement by sea as a result of the defeat of the Chinese fleet at the mouth of the Yalu river. They cannot communicate with their own government by wire, and as their escape from the Corean peninsula by the northern overland route is prevented by the seizure of mountain passes by the Japanese, their surrender appears to be inevitable.

The Japanese are now in force on the border and coast of their enemy, and an early transfer of the scene of war from Corea to China is looked for by army officers, unless movements should be prevented by the early advent of winter. Military experts believe that as soon as the remains Chinese troops in Corea have surrendered the Japanese will transport the main body of their troops by sea from Ping Yang to the Manchurian coast, and by making rapid advance on Mukden, the capital of the province, will soon be in position to organize a campaign on Pekin itself.

It is believed here that the Chinese forces are almost demoralized. To cease the war it is believed the great powers of Europe will soon interfere, fearing that Japan's victory would be followed by domination prejudicing European interests in the Orient.

SHANGHAI, September 19.—Field Marshal Count Yagamata, commanding the forces in corea, is marching with 45,000 Japanese troops on Leukden. The treasure captured at Ping Yang amounted to $3,000,000.

DYNAMITE GUNS.

All the Requirements Met and the Work Accepted.

WASHINGTON, September 19. — The war department has been notified by Manager Phipps, president of the ordnance board, which conducted the recent tests of dynamite gun batteries at Sandy Hook, N. Y., that the guns worked well and that all of the requirements of the contract have been met. Consequently the battery and plant will be accepted and the Pneumatic Dynamite company will be paid $160,000 for one eight inch and two fifteen inch guns with all boilers, compressors and machinery, shells used in the test and ten reserve projectiles for each gun. This experiment having resulted well, work will be pushed on the dynamite gun battery for San Francisco harbor.

POLITICAL MEETINGS.

Bakersfield Visited by Estee and Webster.

BAKERSFIELD, September 19.—M. M. Estee, Republican candidate for governor, was greeted here tonight with a torchlight parade. Many were unable to get into the hall, which was packed to the doors. Estee spoke for over an hour, and his speech was well received. Lee Fairchild also spoke.

J. V. Webster, Populist candidate for governor, spoke to a large audience in the afternoon, and was well received.

REBELLIOUS NEGRO INDIANS

The Chicksaw Nation in a Reign of Terror.

WICHITA, Kan., September 19.—King Hard, leader of the Chicksaw Negro Indians, is in open rebellion. The Negro Indian insurrectionists have gone on a marauding tour and are terrorizing the Indian citizens, robbing houses and ill treating the residents. The eastern part of the Chicksaw nation is in a reign of terror. The Chicksaw government is thinking of expelling the rebels from the reservation.

PRISONERS ESCAPE.

Two Trusted Convicts at Folsom Take Their Departure.

FOLSOM, September 19.—Two convicts, John F. Murphy and Thomas McNamee, escaped from Folsom prison this afternoon. Both were trusties and were allowed considerable liberty, of which they took advantage. Murphy was sent from Yuba county for grand larceny, and McNamee from San Francisco for burglary.

Against Free Silver.

SPOKANE, Wash., September 19.—The Republican state convention had a fight over the silver plank. The platform committee were evidently divided and reported two resolutions. After three hours in discussion, the free silver plank, providing for free coinage at a ratio of 16 to 1, was defeated by a vote of 224 to 261. The platform indorsed the national Republican platform of 1892, and condemned the Democratic administration.

Democrats Fall Out.

COLUMBIA, S.C., September 19.—The state Democratic convention nominated a full ticket, all Tillmanites. The anti-Tillmanites announced that they would not support the nominees, because they were not on the true Democratic platform, and called another convention for the 25th instant, to place an opposition ticket in the field.

Burned to Death.

URIAH, September 19.—A special from Laytonville says that while Mrs. M. J. Grubb was helping her husband prepare a sheep branding mixture her clothes caught fire, and before the flames could be extinguished she died. Her husband was also badly burned in his endeavors to save his wife.

The Mail Obstructing Case.

CARSON, September 19.—The only important testimony given in today's proceedings in the Carlin mail obstructing case was given by Conductor Asher, who admitted under pressure that he was employed by the railroad company to procure evidence for the prosecution.

HIS FAITH SHATTERED.

Judge Crichton's Experiment With a Juvenile Tramp.

There were six vagabonds before Judge Crichton yesterday to receive their just deserts. Three of them were sent to jail for fifteen days, two were liosted, and one was a boy of 15 years, with an honest face and pleasing manner. The boy's story of orphanage and the cruel world touched the sympathies of the Judge, and he concluded that it was his Christian duty to redeem the lad and give him a chance to hold up his head.

He said to the boy: "I have three cords of wood in the shed which I want piled up. If you will go out with me at noon I will give you your dinner, and when you have finished piling the wood I will pay you 50 cents, and will give you a letter of recommendation to a friend in the country, who will give you a job."

The boy showed up for dinner promptly, and ate enough for two full-grown men. After dinner he went out to the woodshed, scrambled over the fence, and away he went, and the Judge has not seen him since. This is an old story told once more. There may be honest and deserving men who are looked upon as tramps, but they are few and far between. A safe plain is for those who have small jobs to be given out, to hire some deserving man or boy who lives here. They deserve the money. Tramps do not.

STILL A BOOMERANG.

THAT ILL-ADVISED DEMOCRATIC PAMPHLET.

Hensley Had Two Deputies Who Were Not Down on the List.

When THE REPUBLICAN in its issue of Sunday last called down the author of the Democratic campaign pamphlet, and which the voters were requested to "read and ponder," the effect was immediate. Even the most ardent Democrat, who had the intelligence to grasp the situation, saw that the "bluff" had failed completely.

It has not only failed, but the more the pamphleteer's facts and figures are investigated the worse the case becomes.

The list of Hensley's deputies, as given in the pamphlet, is short by three of the number allotted by the writer to Scott, but beside omitting any reference to the fact that one of Scott's deputies was actually created and the salary fixed by a Democratic legislature, the writer overlooks altogether two deputies who were at work under Hensley during the very period included in the "deadly parallel." It is indeed a deadly parallel. It is like the gun that exploded at the breech and killed the gunner instead of the men it was pointed at.

During Hensley's term L. F. Winchell and Boss Ely were both in his employ and the records of the county treasurer show specifically that Winchell regularly drew down a salary of $50 a month. Ely is understood to have been paid a similar sum, though his name does not appear on the pay roll, but it is admitted by Democratic officials at the court house that he was in Hensley's employ, and was paid for his services. That Mr. Hensley should have paid the money out of his own pocket is in the highest degree improbable, and even if he did it does not remove the fact that Hensley's working force was quite as large as Scott's in times that were light and easy in the sheriff's office by comparison.

No reference is made in the pamphlet to Hensley's attempt to have the county pay for the National Guardsmen during the time that they were guarding the county jail at the time that George Sontag was confined there, and when an attempt at rescue was feared.

The other office in which the "deadly parallel" was attempted to be worked was the county clerk's. THE REPUBLICAN has already shown so conclusively that there is no merit in the comparison sought to be instituted between the administrations of Williams and Shepherd that the Democratic organ has not even attempted to defend the pamphlet on that line. Not a single word has been written by any of the small army of willing Democratic workers to controvert THE REPUBLICAN'S statement on the essential differences between the fiscal conditions existing in the two terms. The corrections in salaries, etc., which this paper pointed out as necessary to make the Williams list correct have not been criticised or objected to for the simple reason that they cannot be. They are a part of the record which the pamphlet insisted on as the court of final appeal.

Worse than this; further investigation shows that the clerical staff of the Democratic administration left arrears of work which the county has had to pay for since the change of administration. Angus Clark, a deputy under Mr. Williams, was paid $51 for doing work in the clerk's office which should have been done before he went out. The bill was approved by a Democratic Board of Supervisors. S. J. Ashman, another deputy, was paid a similar sum for work left undone before he quit. In February, 1893, E. C. Osborne, who had been an extra clerk under Mr. Williams, was paid $100 for transcribing, and the work so paid for and approved by the supervisors was work that should have been done while he was in Williams' employ. Osborne was employed at a salary of $100 a month under an order of the supervisors dated May 28, 1892. W. S. Badger, a deputy under Mr. Williams, was paid in one sum $152.25 for "segregating roads," at the same time that he was drawing $5 a day as county expert.

These facts, one and all of them, are conspicuous by their absence in the deadly parallel.

Altogether the thoughtful members of the Democratic party are justified in their reticence on the subject of that unfortunate pamphlet. Veritably it looks like the case of the man in the parable who found tares in his field, and exclaimed, "An enemy has done this." The less said about that deadly parallel the better it will be for the party that allowed it to be instituted.

Inevitable Army Service.

Max Lebaudy, the French millionaire whose bills have won him much notoriety in Paris, finds that his small stature and palpitations of the heart will not save him from having to serve three years in the army. The recruiting council before which he went decided that he was fit for a light cavalry regiment and might usefully serve as an eclaireur or a military cyclist. He thought he had smoked himself into heart disease. Naturally, with a fortune of 25,000,000 francs to spend, he is disappointed at having to serve as a lancer, which involves cleaning a horse and other stable duties. As it is useless to kick against the inevitable, he intends to give une fete sportique at the Maisons Lafitte before going to be drafted into a regiment.

AVENUE OF RELIEF

Fresno and the Canal to Tidewater.

BLIGHT OF FREIGHT CHARGES

Cheap Transportation Will Bring Development and Prosperity to This Valley.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—The question of cheaper transportation is one of vital importance to Fresno, overshadowing high taxation or high wages. Sacramento lives and prospers, with a tax rate of $3.50 or $3.75 and wages for unusual labor at '40 rates, because of her advantage as a terminal point on the Southern Pacific system, conceded by that company because of the great river that flows by her shores.

The position of Fresno county is anomalous. Situated in the center of the most magnificent valley upon which the sun shines; with a climate which more than meets the demands of civilized life, healthful, salubrious and vigorous; a soil easy to cultivate and yielding a wealth of products, such as the world has never seen elsewhere, to the crudest efforts of man; water pure, delicious and abundant; she has by a desperate energy proved her right in ten years time to be the metropolitan center of this splendid empire. But her growth is held in check; development has met barriers; energy is expended with poor results, and the people feel that their best and most determined efforts are to a large extent in vain.

What is the trouble? Extortionate transportation rates over what has been supposed to be the only outlet for our commercial affairs has sapped the energies of our people and the fertility of our soil. Illustrations of the tremendous taxation to which the San Joaquin valley is subjected by the Southern Pacific Company are given us by an eminent authority in discussing the need of a competing system of transportation. Take for instance merchant iron, which may be brought from New York to San Francisco by rail for 40 cents per 100 pounds, or by steamship for 32 cents. The same commodity from San Francisco to Fresno will cost 61 cents per 100 pounds, or $2.20 per ton more than from New York to San Francisco. To Hanford the charge is 62 cents per 100 pounds, or $4.40 per ton more than from New York to San Francisco. If a man wants to send the same kind of goods from San Francisco to Bakersfield he will have to pay 82 cents per 100 pounds, which is 40 cents more than twice as much per ton as it costs for transporting the same articles from New York to San Francisco.

Again, let us consider the conditions in regard to raisins and dried fruit, in which the people of the great valleys are interested. From Fresno to Eastern markets the tariff calls for $1 per 100 pounds in carload lots, of which the line to Ogden, the Southern Pacific, receives about 45 cents per 100 pounds as compensation for a service of about 1000 miles. The rate on the same products from Fresno to San Francisco, a distance of 195 miles, is 51 cents, or 6 cents more than from Fresno to Ogden.

We are told that the net earnings of the Southern Pacific Company for 1893 were $2,000,000, of which amount 90 per cent was derived from the San Joaquin valley, perhaps 70 per cent from Fresno county, it being next to San Francisco the largest patron of this company.

In the face of such figures, is there need to ask why men who have homes that are equal to the dreams of romance in beauty, vineyards loaded with purple and amber grapes, trees bending with peaches, nectarines, olives, avenues of figs and palms, is it a wonder that there is fear and distrust of the future in their hearts? What is the possible solution of this condition of affairs?

Is it possible that men have forgotten that one of the noblest rivers of the Pacific coast finds its source in the high Sierras of our own county and runs miles and miles through its arable land? Have they forgotten that there are merchants in Fresno, who not many years ago received freight by steamer, landed at the Upper Sycamore within ten miles of our city—in sight of its electric lights? Do they know that hundreds of tons of wool and wheat have been shipped from Firebaugh's, only thirty miles away? That millions of feet of lumber and tons upon tons of freight have been brought from the bay to Cash Blanco on the Fresno slough, twenty-five miles away?

Here is our source of relief, positive and permanent relief. The San Joaquin river, at least the upper portion of the river, has never yet had the advantage of engineering skill in deepening its channel or clearing it of sand bars and snags, and yet in spite of this fact eight steamers have taken freight from Firebaugh's this season. There is no doubt but that many other steamers would have been at that point if there had been traffic provided.

The Business Men's Association of Fresno have gone into the investigation of the feasibility of reaching Firebaughs by means of a canal from Fresno and have appointed an able board of directors for this purpose. The work done by these gentlemen will be given to the public in a short time, and full information afforded. Nothing ever projected in Fresno county will compare in beneficent results to this project, an absolute and permanent source of relief from the intolerable exactions of the Southern Pacific Company, and a scheme entirely in the hands of the people of the county, easily and cheaply built and maintained.

CHESS CHAMPIONS.

Lasker Has Completed the Greatest Record Ever Made by Any Player.

Lasker, the new champion, has every reason to plume himself on this result, which is almost identical with the result of Steinitz versus Zukertort in 1886—10 to 5, with five draws. Lasker has beaten the man who had beaten all the world for 30 years or more. He has played in the past five years 189 recorded games in matches and tournaments, of which 35 were drawn and only 17 lost. It is enough to say that nobody has ever shown such a record as that.

Steinitz, in his matches and tournaments, has played 259, of which he drew 78 and lost 31. He has played against stronger players, especially in tournaments, and has played a more open and hazardous game, content to be superior without recovering by how much.

No close comparison is possible between Lasker and Morphy, the less so because our fixed idea of Morphy recalls him as a youth of most subtle and fortunate imagination, which seemed to picture not only the natural effects of his own moves, but the choices and misapprehensions of his antagonist. His style was above everything picturesque and we are losing the picturesque in chess or should be losing it if it were not for the brilliant eccentrics of the annex or clubs.—Saturday Review.

CITY SCHOOL NEWS.

WHERE THE VARIOUS CLASSES WILL REPORT.

Instructions for New Scholars Entering the Schools—The Boundaries as Laid Out.

Students are already getting down their books and brushing off the dust in preparation for the opening of school next Monday. It is possible that some will have to rack their brains to recollect the names of the books used last year. The following points, if observed, regarding the boundaries, grades, etc., will save much trouble and annoyance to all concerned:

Students wishing to enter the high school this year are requested to come to the high school building on Friday or Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. They are also requested to bring the books they have studied and also their certificates of promotion. Those promoted from the city schools need not report until Monday morning. There seems to be some misunderstanding on the part of pupils in the country to the effect that they are not eligible to attend the high school. Pupils promoted from the ninth grade in the country schools can enter the high school, but they will have some algebra to make up after entering.

A large attendance is anticipated for the high school this year. Scholars from the country will be more numerous than last year. The reputation of the Fresno high school has gone abroad and now students from all parts of the valley are seeking admission. One of the spare rooms in the white building has been fitted up as a physical laboratory for the high school. The room is much larger, is better adapted to the laboratory work than the old room. New students for the ward building are requested to be present at their respective buildings for classification at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Mariposa street from the railroad track is the dividing line for the K-street and central buildings. Stanislaus and Abby street form the boundaries for the ward buildings; and all west of the railroad will go to the C-street building.

The grades at the O street school will be from the first to the fifth inclusive. The K street and Park avenue schools will have grades from the first to the sixth inclusive. The Central school will not have either a fifth or a sixth grade, so all in those grades residing north of Mariposa will have to go to the Park avenue building. This latter arrangement meets with considerable disfavor, as it will inconvenience a good sized class on account of the long walk to the Park avenue building. The seventh and eighth grades will be located at the Central building this year.

Everything is ready at the Park avenue building with the exception of the slate blackboards, which are expected to arrive this week. Seats are now being put in place in the rooms to be occupied. It was not necessary to purchase any new furniture, as enough was out of use at the other buildings to furnish the new building.

SEAGOING HOBOES.

Ships Sailing From San Francisco Are Carrying a Full List of Stowaways.

Nearly every ship that has gone out of port in the past two months has had one or more stowaways on board. As a rule, captains do not object to one or two, but when it comes to half a dozen or more it is a serious matter. The coasters to northern ports have been most patronized by stowaways, and now it is the usual thing for the captains of the ships to make a tour through the hold of their vessels to make sure that they will not have more of a crew than they can feed.

On the last trip of the Enoch Arden north nine men were stowed away in her hold when she was towed out of port, and they did not show themselves until the tug was well out of hailing distance. When the vessel reached Seattle, she was nearly bare of provisions. The stowaways on ships north are all bound for the lumber regions of Washington or the mines of British Columbia, where they hope to get work. Those who manage to get away from San Francisco on ships bound elsewhere seem to have no definite end in view except to keep moving if it does not take too much exertion.—San Francisco Examiner.

BURDENS LEGITIMATE INDUSTRY.

The passing of the income tax is a landable effort to more justly distribute the burden of taxation. Heretofore the poor man has been paying more than his share of the taxes. Now the income tax appears and the poor man is not disturbed or affected in the least. Only those who are able to pay are taxed.—Visalia Times.

The Times appears to be somewhat in error regarding the existing income tax. A poor man or a man of small means who has his little capital, hard earned perhaps, invested in stock in a company which pays an income of over $4000 per annum, is subjected to the burden of this discriminating tax. THE REPUBLICAN believes that an income tax could be devised which would be advantageous as a means of removing a portion of the burdens of the government from the industrial classes and placing them upon the shoulders of the inordinately rich, but little benefit can be derived from the present tax and that is offset by its disadvantages.

A tax upon incomes of $4000 includes the great bulk of small industries throughout the country. It is a discrimination against and a burden upon that class who are most entitled to encouragement. There should be no discrimination against industry or brains in this country. The earnings of the individual should not be subjected to unusual burdens, nor the incomes of industrial corporations until largely in excess of the amount fixed by the present law.

Only the big corporations, the monopolies and trusts, and the millionaires whose incomes are from rents, interests and non-productive industries should be subjected to a tax upon incomes. It should be a tax upon inordinate and unproductive wealth, not a burden upon legitimate industry and the earnings of industrious and capable individuals. Its effect should be to discourage the millionaire class who are simply absorbers and not creators of industry.

The present tax is radically wrong.

THE evening free trade journal says that "the attempt to discredit the present administration of President Cleveland for sustaining the credit of the government by the issuance of bonds to get gold which was necessary to keep all our silver and paper money at par with gold was intended solely to stimulate the ignorant prejudices of minds that have gone daft on fiat money." So the gold bought with the Cleveland bonds was necessary to keep our silver and currency at par, was it? Did anybody observe any signs of depreciation in the value of the silver dollar on the greenback? If it became necessary to issue bonds in the amount of $50,000,0.0 when the gold reserve had fallen to $90,000,000, what amount of bonds is necessary now, when the reserve has gone done to about $56,000,000? Certainly if bonds were then necessary to keep our money at par, they are necessary at present in nearly double the amount then issued to prevent the disaster then so greatly feared. As a matter of fact the illegal issuance of $50,000,000 bonds by Cleveland and Carlisle was wholly unwarranted, and the reason alleged is the flimsiest sort of pretext. If there were anything at all in the excuse set forth by the Expositor, the administration would be criminally negligent of its duty in not issuing more bonds at once. The alleged cause exists in a twofold degree.

Our good Populist brethren started out last spring with the idea that the pure and proper thing was for the office to seek the man. But somehow or other, as the season advanced and the offices showed a reluctance to come out and roost on the doorsill of the reform candidates, a little seeking after the flesh pots of politics did not seem to be so much of a crime, and as the offices still continued to be shy and elusive, the chase commenced in earnest; and never has the county seen in all its history such an array of breathless, sweating patriots as the Populist office seekers. For months they have been chasing up and down the land, singly and in pairs, in squads and battalions in a frantic, desperate pursuit of those things which should seek the good men at the plow, and in their shops and offices. Which only goes to show that the distinguishing characteristic of the average professional reformer is that he wants an office a little worse than anybody else on the wide, wide world.

THE Madera Tribune thinks that community would be greatly benefited if the ladies manifested some of the spirit shown by the women of the Ashland district in the late Breckinridge campaign. Perhaps if the Tribune will take the initiative, by pointing out who those Madera Breckinridges are, the women will supply the referendum, and reform will go sweeping over the community like a Kansas prairie fire. The ladies cannot be expected to do all the reforming. A great deal of credit is due them for the result down in Kentucky, but the fact cannot be overlooked that while the women were praying the men were voting, and according to Colonel Breckinridge, a good many of them were voting pretty often. The devil cannot be successfully combatted with a powder puff.

WILLIAM ALFORD, Democratic nominee for congress from this district, unbosomed himself in Stockton and informed a reporter that he was entirely confident of his ability to beat Congressman Bowers. Confidence and self esteem are not bad traits in an office seeker, but when Willie reads the returns and finds himself a couple of thousand votes behind the tried and true friend of the people, W. W. Bowers, he will wonder that he ever had the chilled steele nerve to make those remarks.

A. J. WATERHOUSE is making the Merced Sun the best Populist paper in the state. Speaking more specifically, it is the only paper of that politics in the state, with one or two exceptions, which can be read by men of ordinary carthorse sense without a feeling of deep pity for the people who feed upon such decayed and poisonous rot. The Populist press as a rule is not only a disgrace to the party but is a menace to the moral and political health of the people.

COFFINS BEING CHEAPER.

Coffins are cheaper, so they say,
Because the tariff's done away,
Or lowered; and in looking 'round
On want and need and doubt profound;
On Hunger and her callow brood,
The lack of coin, the need of food,
The Democratic strain and dearth
Which Grover visits on the earth,
The scanty dollar, lacking dimes,
The rocky, rocky, rocky times,
One thought will linger constant, nigh;
Now is a fellow's time to die.
—Merced Sun.

And Fresno's is the cheapest soil
For shuffling off the mortal coil.
The poor have grave room free of rent
And ten are buried for a cent.

"The California producer cannot maintain the present price of wages and compete on equal terms with the raisin grower of Malaga, where labor is 20 cents a day; with the oil and nut raisers on the Mediterranean, where labor is 22 cents a day; with the wine producer of France, where labor is 30 cents a day; or with the wool producer of Australia, where the rent of lands is not equal to our taxes."—Speech of M. PROCLAMATION!

STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
SACRAMENTO, August 4, 1894.

Whereas, The Legislature of the State of California, at its thirtieth session, beginning on the second day of January, A. D. 1893, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the houses of said Legislature voting in favor thereof, proposed the following described amendments to the Constitution of the State of California, to-wit:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

ASSEMBLY CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No. 8.

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of the State, amending section one of article two thereof, relative to the right of suffrage.

Section 1. Every native male citizen of the United States, every male person who shall have acquired the rights of citizenship under or by virtue of the Treaty of Queretaro, and every male naturalized citizen thereof, who shall have become such ninety days prior to any election, of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a resident of the State one year next preceding the election, and of the county in which he claims his vote ninety days and in the election precinct thirty days, shall be entitled to vote at all elections which are now or may hereafter be authorized by law; provided, no native of China, no idiot, no insane person, no person hereafter convicted of any infamous crime, no person hereafter convicted of the embezzlement or misappropriation of public money, and no person who shall not be able to read the Constitution in the English language and write his name, shall ever exercise the privileges of an elector in this State; provided, that the provisions of this amendment relative to an educational qualification shall not apply to any person prevented by a physical disability from complying with its requisitions; nor to any person who now has the right to vote; nor to any person who shall be sixty years of age and upwards at the time this amendment shall take effect.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No. 14.

A resolution proposing to the people of the State of California an amendment to section three of article eleven of the Constitution of the State of California, relating to the formation of new counties.

Section 3. The Legislature, by general and uniform laws, may provide for the formation of new counties; provided, however, that no new county shall be established which shall reduce any county to a population of less than eight thousand; nor shall a new county be formed containing a less population than five thousand; nor shall any line thereof pass within five miles of the county seat of any county proposed to be divided. Every county which shall be enlarged or created from territory taken from any other county or counties, shall be liable for a just proportion of the existing debts and liabilities of the county or counties from which such territory shall be taken.

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE.

ASSEMBLY CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No. 7.

A resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of California, by adding a new section to article thirteen of the said Constitution, to be numbered section twelve and three-fourths (12¾), relating to revenue and taxation.

Section 12¾. Fruit and nut bearing trees under the age of four years from the time of planting in orchard form, and grape vines under the age of three years from the time of planting in vineyard form, shall be exempt from taxation, and nothing in this article shall be construed as subjecting such trees and grape vines to taxation.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FOUR.

ASSEMBLY CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No 12

A resolution proposing to the people of the State of California an amendment to section seventeen, article one, of the Constitution of the State of California.

Section 17. Foreigners of the white race, or of African descent, eligible to become citizens of the United States under the naturalization laws thereof, while bona fide residents of this State, shall have the same rights in respect to the acquisition, possession, enjoyment, transmission, and inheritance of all property, other than real estate, as native born citizens; provided, that such aliens owning real estate at the time of the adoption of this amendment may remain such owners; and provided further, that the Legislature may, by statute, provide for the disposition of real estate which shall hereafter be acquired by such aliens by descent or devise.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FIVE.

SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No. 17.

A resolution proposing to the people of the State of California an amendment to section seven, article eleven, of the Constitution of the State of California.

Section 7. City and County governments may be merged and consolidated into one municipal government, with one set of officers, and may be incorporated under general laws providing for the incorporation and organization of corporations for municipal purposes. The provisions of this Constitution applicable to cities, and also those applicable to counties, so far as not inconsistent or prohibited to cities, shall be applicable to such consolidated government.

AMENDMENT NUMBER SIX.

SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No. 7.

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of the State, amending section nine of article thirteen thereof, relative to the election of a State Board of Equalization.

Section 9. A State Board of Equalization, consisting of one member from each congressional district in this State, shall be elected by the qualified electors of their respective districts at the first general election to be held after the adoption of this amendment, and at each general election every four years, whose term of office shall be for four years, whose duty it shall be to equalize the valuation of the taxable property in the several counties of the State for the purposes of taxation. The Controller of State shall be ex officio a member of the Board. The Boards of Supervisors of the several counties of the State shall constitute Boards of Equalization for their respective counties whose duty it shall be to equalize the valuation of the taxable property in the county for the purpose of taxation; provided, such State and County Boards of Equalization are hereby authorized and empowered, under such rules of notice as the County Board may prescribe as to the county assessments, and under such rules of notice as the State Board may prescribe as to the action of the State Board, to increase or lower the entire assessment roll, or any assessment contained therein, so as to equalize the assessment of the property contained in said assessment roll, and make the assessment conform to the true value in money of the property contained in said roll; provided, that no Board of Equalization shall raise any mortgage, deed of trust, contract, or other obligation by which a debt is secured, money, or solvent credits above its face value. The State Board of Equalization elected in eighteen hundred and ninety-four shall continue in office until their successors as herein provided for, shall be elected and shall qualify.

AMENDMENT NUMBER SEVEN.

SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No. 16

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to article thirteen of the Constitution, section one, in relation to revenue and taxation.

Section 1. All property in the State, not exempt under the laws of the United States, shall be taxed in proportion to its value, to be ascertained as provided by law. The word "property," as used in this article and section, is hereby declared to include moneys, credits, bonds, stocks, dues, franchises and all other matters and things, real, personal, and mixed, capable of private ownership; provided, that property used for free public libraries and free museums, growing crops, property used exclusively for public schools, and such as may belong to the United States, this State, or to any county or municipal corporation within this State, shall be exempt from taxation. The Legislature may provide, except in case of credits secured by mortgage or trust deed, for a reduction from credits of debts due to bona fide residents of this State.

AMENDMENT NUMBER EIGHT.

ASSEMBLY CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No. 31.

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to section seven (7) of article nine (IX) of the Constitution of the State of California, by increasing the number of members constituting the State Board of Education, by adding thereto the President and Professor of Pedagogics of the University of California.

Section 7. The Governor, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the President of the University of California, and the Professor of Pedagogy therein, and the Principals of the State Normal Schools shall constitute the State Board of Education, and shall compile, or cause to be compiled, and adopt a uniform series of textbooks for use in the common schools throughout the State. The State Board may cause such textbooks, when adopted, to be printed and published by the Superintendent of State Printing, at the State Printing Office, and when so printed and published, to be distributed and sold at the cost price of printing, publishing, and distributing the same. The text-books so adopted shall continue in use not less than four years; and said State Board shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by law. The Legislature shall provide for a Board of Education in each county in the State. The County Superintendents and the County Boards of Education shall have control of the examination of teachers and the granting of teachers' certificates within their respective jurisdictions.

AMENDMENT NUMBER NINE.

SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No. 20.

An Act to submit to the people of the State of California an amendment to section twenty-three of article four of the Constitution of the State of California.

Section 23. The members of the Legislature shall receive, in full payment for their services, the sum of one thousand ($1,000) dollars, and mileage not to exceed ten cents per mile, and for contingent expenses not to exceed twenty-five dollars, for each session, to be paid out of the public treasury. No increase in compensation or mileage shall take effect during the term for which the members of either house shall have been elected, and the pay of no attache shall be increased after he is elected or appointed.

NOW THEREFORE, Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution, and an Act of the Legislature entitled, "An Act to provide for the submission of proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State of California to the qualified electors for their approval," approved March 7, A. D., 1883, viz:

"Section 1. When the Legislature shall propose any amendment or amendments to the Constitution of this state, which amendment or amendments shall have been passed in the manner and form required by section one of article eighteen of the Constitution, and no other mode is provided by law for the submission of such amendment or amendments to the people for their approval, it shall be the duty of the Governor to advertise such proposed amendment or amendments in at least four newspapers of general circulation in this state, for three months next preceding the next general election. One of said newspapers must be published at the city of Sacramento, and two at the city of San Francisco; and in issuing his proclamation for an election at which any amendment or amendments to the Constitution are to be voted upon, he shall include such amendment or amendments therein, and he shall designate them by numbers, in the order in which they have been proposed."

The said amendments are submitted to be separately voted upon by ballot by the qualified electors of the state, on

Tuesday, November 6th, A.D., 1894

Each ballot used at such election must contain, printed thereon, the words:

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. Eight.	Yes. No.

Summons.

In the Superior Court of the County of Fresno, State of California.

Christina Metz, plaintiff, vs. Gottlieb Metz, defendant.

Action brought in the Superior Court in and for the County of Fresno, State of California, and the complaint filed in the office of the clerk of said county.

The People of the State of California send greeting to Gottlieb Metz, defendant.

YOU ARE HEREBY REQUIRED TO APPEAR in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the Superior Court, in and for the County of Fresno, State of California, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the day of service on you of this summons, if served within this county; or, if served elsewhere, within thirty days.

The said action is brought to secure a decree of divorce dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between you and this plaintiff, and that the care and custody of the minor child, Mary Metz, the issue of the said marriage between you and plaintiff, be awarded to this plaintiff, and for general relief in the premises and for costs of suit.

For further particulars you are hereby referred to the complaint on file herein a copy of which is served herewith.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint, as above required, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Superior Court, in and for the County of Fresno, State of California, this 7th day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four.

[Seal of the Superior Court.]

Order of Adjudication of Insolvency.

No. 6054.

In the Superior Court of the County of Fresno, State of California.

In the matter of A. L. Rerat, an insolvent debtor.

A. L. RERAT, HAVING FILED IN THIS court his petition, schedule and inventory in insolvency, from which it appears that he is an insolvent debtor, the said A. L. Rerat is hereby declared to be insolvent. It is hereby ordered that Jay Scott, Sheriff, be, and he is hereby appointed receiver of the property of said insolvent, and that upon his giving a bond to the people of the state of California, conditioned as required by law, and in such sum as the court may order, and qualifying, he take charge and possession of all of the estate, real and personal, of said A. L. Rerat, insolvent debtor, whatsoever and wheresoever situate, except such as may be by law exempt from execution, and all of his deeds, vouchers books of account and papers, and to keep and care for and dispose of the same until the appointment of an assignee of his estate. All persons having the same, or any part thereof (including the Sheriff of the county of Fresno) in his or their possession, are hereby directed to deliver said property to said receiver, and all persons owing money to said insolvent are hereby directed to pay the same to said receiver, and that said receiver keep the said property, or the proceeds thereof till the further order of this court. And all persons are hereby forbidden to pay any debts to said insolvent, or to deliver any property belonging to such insolvent, to him, or to any person, firm corporation or association for his use, and the said debtor is hereby forbidden to transfer or deliver any property until the further order of this court, except as herein ordered.

It is further ordered, that all the creditors of said debtor be and appear before the Hon. J. R. Webb, Judge of the Superior Court of the County of Fresno, in open court at the court room of said court, in the county of Fresno, on the 22nd day of September, 1894, at 9.30 o'clock a.m. of that day, to prove their debts and choose one or more assignees of the estate of said debtor.

It is further ordered, that this order be published in THE FRESNO MORNING REPUBLICAN, a daily newspaper of general circulation published in the city and county of Fresno, as often as the said paper is published before the day set for the meeting of creditors.

And it is further ordered, that, in the meantime, all proceedings against said insolvent be stayed.

Dated August 20th, A. D. 1894

A Tough Subject.

Judge Clark yesterday sentenced Jim Thompson to jail for six months on a charge of disturbing the peace. He had been loafing around saloons, and had been boisterous, quarrelsome and overbearing, and was an acknowledged leader of the things and ruffians who infest the alleys and beer joints. It is almost certain, but not absolutely so, that Jim Thompson was one of the gang of five who assaulted Policeman Wood a few nights ago. He will have time now to reflect upon the evil of his way.

DIDN'T SEE THE GOAT

Mr. Spinney's Curiosity Is Baffled.

ODD FELLOWS ON THE ALERT

A Sensational Episode At the Outer Door of a Fraternal Hall.

Joseph Spinney, the Populist orator, city trustee and candidate for supervisor in the first district, is the hero of a sensation which convulsed secret society circles in this city yesterday. It is Mr. Spinney's peculiar privilege to be the observed of all observers where ever he goes. He frequently alludes to the notoriety showered on him in that plaintive tone of his which has so oft beguiled the tedium of the council of the city dads.

Mr. Spinney's latest contribution to Fresno's list of sensations is ascribed by the hard unfeeling world to a burning desire to see the Odd Fellows' "goat."

Be it known unto all that are uninitiated and to the general reader, to whom a goat is simply a harmless herbivorous ruminant quadruped, that the term "goat" as understood in secret society circles is of very terrible meaning. "Riding the goat" is the phrase by which the initiated in these matters describe the ordeal attendant on the initiating process. If you mention the word "goat" without warning in the hearing of an Odd Fellow, or a Knight of Pythias, his cheek will blanch and his eyeballs swell to bursting at the mere recollection of that fearful dweller of the threshold.

It is to be presumed that Mr. Spinney had some inkling that when the lodge is closed, and the brethren have departed, the goat is tethered up for the night in a dark closet, and that all the mysterious paraphernalia of the order are in this same Bluebeard's chamber. And this may be one of the reasons why Mr. Spinney sought an hour when the brethren were not there, and with the aid of a locksmith sought to gain admission at the outer door. There was no grim guardian there; no vicious of drawn swords disturbed Mr. Spinney's mental tranquility. He probably grinned as only Mr. Spinney can grin, and told Locksmith Coble to proceed with his work.

But about this time a dark shadow fell on the carpeted floor, and a voice—the stern voice of an Odd Fellow—was heard bidding Coble hold his hand. Spinney said the lock was old and needed changing, but the Odd Fellow sternly rejoined that the old lock was good enough, and there would be no changing while he was around.

Matters grew serious, and both sides invoked police protection. Mr. Spinney had his men to guard the hall entrance, and the Odd Fellows put in theirs. The locksmith went away without changing the lock, and the Odd Fellows, having occasion to do some carpenter work inside, put a man through the transom.

As the matter now stands Mr. Spinney has not seen the goat and forbidden joys of contemplating the grim paraphernalia he had perhaps read of in the professed revelations of secret society horrors are still untasted joys to him.

The Knights of Phythias have a goat of their own, in the same hall, and they held a meeting last night without let or hendrance, but Mr. Spinney did not see their goat either. Perhaps it was for this reason that he wandered about the street last night in a reckless, unhappy sort of way, and sent word to the Fifth ward Populists that he had pressing business this side of the track and would probably be unable to speak.

There is a prosaic side to every romance, and the cold prose of this particular story is doubtless the version which will be indorsed wholly or in part by Joseph Spinney—the man who "didn't see the goat."

It appears that a little over two years ago Mr. Spinney executed a lease of the fraternal hall in the building which bears his name to the Central California Lodge of Odd Fellows, No. 343, of this city, with the privilege of sub-leasing. The lodge availed itself of this privilege, and rented the hall on the nights they did not use it to other societies, notably the Foresters, the United Workmen, the Knights of Pythias and to a second lodge of Odd Fellows. By virtue of the sum derived from the sub-leases the California lodge not only cleared their own rent but got a small overplus.

This fact had been establishing itself in Mr. Spinney's mind for some time past, and as the first day of September and the present year approached he discerned an opportunity of sharing the prosperity of the Odd Fellows' lodge. But in this case there was a missing link somewhere, and that somewhere was claimed by the Odd Fellows to be in the terms of the original lease by which they were granted the privilege of a renewal. Mr. Spinney refused to admit this, and told the three-linked brethren that he proposed to do a little sub-leasing on his own account.

Mr. Spinney's reputation as an astute financier is even wider than his fame as a statesman and an orator, and the Odd Fellows strove in vain to dissuade him from his purpose of taking possession of the hall. Failing in this they tendered the rent for the ensuing term, and on Spinney's refusal to accept it, deposited it in a bank to his credit and retained possession.

Mr. Spinney was equal to the occasion, and on Tuesday he sent for a locksmith. The rest of the story has been already told. Exactly how the matter will end no one seems to know, but in the meantime the Odd Fellows are rejoicing in the fact that no profane eye has yet beheld their goat, which remains in its fearful and mysterious seclusion, to freeze the marrow in the bones of the rash neophyte who seeks the grand secret, and avows his willingness to confront in a formal and regular way the dweller of the threshold.

L. E. Wing and I. B. Shields, Spinney's men in possession, were arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Bedford and Ben Merritt, at the instance of A. J. Shields, one of the Odd Fellows, and taken before Judge Crichton, who allowed them to go on their own recognizance. An injunction was also issued by Judge Holmes, restraining Mr. Spinney from interfering with the Odd Fellows in the peaceable possession of the hall.

"BACH" IN DANGER.

He Objects to Riding Too Much With the Coroner.

The able journalist N. L. F. Bachman, who now aspires to the honors of a statesman, and the representation of the Sixty-third Assembly district, has "sought the bubble reputation at the cannon's mouth" too often in early life to be accused of lacking any of the qualifications of a brave man. But it is stated as a fact that on several occasions lately "Bach" has backed down and exhibited all the symptoms of a badly-scared frame of mind. It is explained in this way:

Among Bach's companions in his stumping tour of the past ten days one of the closest has been Coroner Stephens, who hopes to succeed himself if Judge Galloway doesn't sit too hard on "that [illegible] good looking young man."

It happened on two or three occasions that Stephens and Bachman drove together long distances over lonely and rocky mountain roads. There were nasty washouts in places, and whenever "Bach" came to a particularly ugly spot he would glance obliquely and uneasily at his companion. Stephens noticed it at last and inquired the cause. "Bach" had to come squarely out with it and said: "Well, look here Stephens, you're the coroner, aren't you? And you're an undertaker, aren't you? And you've got a nice lot of caskets stored away, have'nt you? And you get so much for every inquest, don't you?

Stephens nodded, wondering what was coming next.

"Well, said Bach, as they came to a fairly terrible mixture of crags, ridges and washouts, its just this way, I like to encourage business, but I don't feel like being a subject myself. See!

And Bach got down and out. He did not remount till the buggy had reached the other side.

"Friends" at the Barton.

Each season the management of "Friends" endeavor to improve their last season's cast, but it must be conceded that the company interpreting the principal roles last year were well nigh perfect, so they have let well enough alone, making only some minor changes for the better. Lucius Henderson, the gifted actor-pianist, whose piano recitals created a furore last season among music lovers, will this season introduce some new selections. Messrs. Edwin Milton Royle, Harry Allen, E. D Lyons and Celena Fetter Royle are acknowledged favorites here, and they will receive a hearty greeting here when "Friends" is produced Monday, September 24th. It is a pleasure to chronicle the continued success of so original a play as "Friends" and such accomplished players as Messrs. Royle and Henderson have surrounded themselves with.

Spinney Did Not Speak.

Five Populists, the only representatives of a mass meeting in the Fifth ward, sat gloomy and silent in a room at the French hotel last night. They waited half an hour and no one came. Then they got up, adjourned the meeting and went out with five sighs blended in a single exhalation. The cause presently transpired. Jo Spinney had been announced to address the meeting and Jo couldn't come. The reason why appears in another column. The thought of Mr. Spinney's oratory wasting its sweetness on the desert air was not to be endured. The faithful five are only kept alive by the hope that Mr. Spinney will speak at the adjourned meeting to be held a fortnight hence.

A Pitiful Case.

Application was made to Chairman Letcher, of the Board of Supervisors, who has charge of county indigent cases, on behalf of Grace, Lotta, and Frank, the infant children of the late Jean Jaussand, a vineyard laborer. Jaussand committed suicide by cutting his throat about a month ago, on account of his wife's relations with a man named Kelly. The woman is now living in Donahue's addition, and it is represented that the children are absolutely destitute. On account of the peculiar circumstances surrounding the case Chairman Letcher decided to make a full investigation. The children will probably be sent to Mrs. Donleavey's county orphan asylum.

Suit for Debt.

In the superior court yesterday J. B. Hill was sued for $853.75 by the Kutner-Goldstein Company. This sum is the amount of two promissory notes by Hill which are now held by the plaintiff. The defendant in the suit is the Populist candidate for sheriff of Fresno county. The plaintiff is represented by H. H. Welsh.

Frank Brown's Case.

Judge Clark will today pronounce sentence upon Frank Brown, on a charge of battery. He is one of the five thugs who assaulted Policeman Wood in the Reservation park a few nights ago. He confessed to it yesterday. The four others escaped, but the officer floored Brown and landed him in jail, somewhat the worse for the wear.

THE DOOM OF SHEEP.

HOW FREE TRADE HURTS THE WOOL INDUSTRY.

Experiences of Those Who Have Been in the Sheep Raising Business.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN: — The fallacious argument used by Mr. Fairweather in his two articles in the Expositor of recent dates criticising Mr. Shoobert's views on the wool tariff, may properly be classed as so much claptrap to catch Democratic votes from amongst the sheepmen of this county.

It is indeed too bad that this chivalrous gentleman is compelled, as he himself admits, to emerge from the shades of his retirement into which he was recently forced by the late Democratic county convention, to do battle for the cause of Democracy in the discussion of a subject fraught with so much interest to the American sheepmen. The object of his two articles was apparently to prove two things: First, that the importation of foreign wools is of a class that cannot be produced in this country; and secondly, that the price of American wool declines as the result of a protective tariff.

With reference to his first proposition, no one disputes that there has always been a considerable quantity of a certain class of wool imported to this country, not because such wools are not produced here, but because they are not produced in sufficient quantity to supply the demand, and, as a consequence, it sometimes becomes necessary to purchase the same abroad to make up the deficiency. Mr. Shoobert meant to convey the idea that all such wools can be supplied in our own home market under proper conditions, thereby obviating the necessity of going abroad to purchase the same. Mr. Shoobert was right on that point.

An uninterrupted experience of the writer of this article of nearly twenty years in the sheep business in the state of Texas enabled him to acquire a pretty fair knowledge of the wool industry, and to speak with some degree of certainty on the subject. During that period his experience extended to every class of sheep and wool, from the hairy Mexican to the finest breeds in America. Being brought frequently into contact with sheep men, wool buyers and manufacturers of the east, and handling the best and finest of the different breeds from those states and imported breeds as well, he is able to state positively that there are sections in the United States where as fine wools can be and are grown as any where in the world, and in sufficient quantities to supply all demands for home consumption. Nor is it confined to any particular style, quality of length of staple. As fine cloths have been manufactured from American wools as from any where in the world. Manufacturers have frequently testified to this fact. As additional evidence, that of Mr. Latzko, the Australian commissioner to the World's Fair, before the ways and means committee is here quoted. He testifies that "The American woolen goods have no superior in any part of the world; there is nothing manufactured from wool that cannot be as well made in this country as any where else."

Several years ago under the beneficent influences of a protective tariff, special attention was given to the production of such wools as our manufacturers found it necessary to import from abroad, but tinkering with the tariff has of late years materially discouraged efforts towards expensive improvements in sheep breeding.

As to Mr. Fairweather's second proposition: The avowed object of free raw material being according to the Democratic idea, the cheapening of the manufactured article, it must be inferred from the tenor of his argument that, according to his idea, protected wool is cheaper as a consequence while the manufactured article is dearer, or vice versa, that free wool is higher while the manufactured article is cheaper.

Will Mr. Fairweather and his "clan," as he terms it, please inform us how, under present conditions, high prices for wool may be obtained, the manufactured article cheapened and good wages maintained at the same time for the labor that produces the manufactured article?

In support of his proposition he states that there has been a rapid decline in the price of wool for several years past, notwithstanding the fact that there has all the time been a tariff on the same. He neglected to state, however, that for the last fifteen years there had been most of the time a Democratic majority in the lower house of congress, and five years of this time a Democratic President. During all this time there has been a systematic fight waged against a tariff on wool. The periods of greatest depression were when efforts were being made with any chance of success to reduce the duty on the same; notably when the Mills bill was under discussion, and there was a fair prospect of its being placed on the free list, the wool industry in America received its greatest and almost fatal blow. Since then it has fluctuated in price, but never recovered sufficiently to be a profitable business in any except the most favored localities. When Mr. Fairweather charges that the greatest depression and lowest prices for wool were reached under the McKinley law he misstates the real facts. When the McKinley bill was passed the price of wool improved, and it was only when a Democratic President and both houses of congress were elected, and the business of the country collapsed under the free trade blight and there was little demand for raw materials, that the price of wool went down to a price that did not justify taking it off the sheep's back in some localities. A short time ago when the Wilson bill went from the house to the senate, and was there amended until its complexion was so greatly changed that President Cleveland declared he would veto it, and when it became almost certain that no tariff bill would be passed this year, and by reason of the almost certain fact that congress would be overwhelmingly Republican after the November elections, there was for a short time quite a demand for wool, and the prices advanced two cents to three cents per pound. Just as soon as the so-called Wilson bill became a law with wool on the free list, prices went down again lower than was ever known before since the beginning of this free trade crusade. That is just where it stands today, and the demand for wool at any price has almost wholly disappeared.

It has never been claimed by even the most ardent defender of the protection principle that it is the only factor that enters into the control of prices of American products or labor. Any sensible man knows that there are a multitude of causes and conditions that sometimes operate to produce a rise or fall in prices. It is contended, however, that it has a tendency at all times to accomplish the most beneficial results to the laborer and producer by keeping the standard of prices above those of the pauper ridden countries of the old world, through the instrumentality of fostering our own industries, thereby stimulating a healthy competition in all lines of trade and occupation that places all on a plane of equality and gives each one an equal show to earn a competency and enjoy the comforts of life.

Mills Refused to Talk.

George Mills had his trial in Judge Clark's court yesterday for stealing Ben Dore's peaches. The particulars of his case were given in this paper at the time of his arrest, the chief point being that he claimed he brought the peaches from San Jose. When in court yesterday he refused to talk. Evidence was taken in the case, and the judgment of the court will be pronounced today.

Dressmaking.

Miss Susie Johnson having returned from San Francisco, is now ready for dressmaking and will be glad to see both old and new customers at 1422 K street.

B. T. Scott, the leader in low prices.
How?
By putting your money where it will do you the most good.
In what?
In the finest and cheapest lot of groceries ever offered in Fresno.
Yes?
Its a fact!
Then we'll go to B. T. Scott's! pay cash for our groceries and be happy. We can't afford to pay two prices for groceries because we get a few days credit. No indeed, Mrs. Doughnut! Lots of people never change their trading place. There is where they make a mistake. Scott gives
Fifteen pounds of granulated sugar for $1.
Two pounds Reid Bros. corned beef 20c.
One gallon New Orleans molasses 85c.
One pound Spider Leg tea 50c.
One pound Arbuckle's coffee 25c.

Wives and Mothers know that lard makes food too "rich" for children and delicate persons, that it is unhealthy for everybody & that it tends to dyspepsia, &c. So long as LARD is LARD these things must be so, but the NEW SHORTENING — COTTOLENE is better than lard for all cooking purposes, & has none of the evil effects of lard. KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Attest: W. A. SHEPHERD, Clerk.
By J. B. JOHNSON, Deputy.

A BEAUTIFUL HORSE THIEF.

She Is May Colvin, an Ozark Girl of 18, and as Pretty as a Picture.

The female department of the penitentiary undoubtedly furnishes the most depraved types of humanity. Primarily the partiality of courts and juries for women characterizes every judicial system of civilization, and so it must be a depraved and dangerous woman indeed whom a jury of Americans will sentence to penal servitude.

Decidedly the most unique personality of the female population of the prison is May Colvin. May is only 18 years old and is a rustic beauty. Dress her in the gorgeous paraphernalia of Lillian Russell and she would be a more brilliant beauty than that stage celebrity. She has great blue eyes and a mass of tousled blond hair of Titian tint. Her form is luscious—well rounded and plump—and her cheeks are red with the vigorous life of the Ozarks, whence she came. Her mouth is one that an impressionable artist would go wild over, with its cherry red lips of sensuous curves, the whole forming the most perfect Cupid's bow. And, withal, May is a horse thief and doesn't deny it. Certainly the confinement in the penitentiary has brought out her native beauty, that must have been blurred or obscured by her exposure to all sorts of rough weather while fleeing over the plains and mountains of the southwest from the officers or else no jury could have ever been induced to give her a term in prison, especially for so common and plebeian an offense as stealing horses.

But May is not only a horse thief, but a jail breaker as well by her own confession. Her feat in breaking from the jail at Girard, Kan., where she was confined about two years ago for horse stealing, her escape to Jasper county, Mo., and her subsequent capture there and prosecution on an old charge will be recalled by the readers of newspapers.

"Well, I have no hard luck story to tell," was the way May greeted The Republic representative. "They made no mistake in my case. Nearly everybody else in here is innocent, according to their own statement, but I'm not. I'm here for horse stealing.

"When I heard you were here and wanted to see me, I thought you were an officer from Girard, Kan., and wanted to take me back there for breaking out of jail. I'm glad you are not, but I guess they'll come for me as soon as my term is out here, which will be in about 14 months if I behave myself. I've been a pretty good girl since I've been here. The reason for it, I guess, is that I haven't had a chance to be bad. However, I've so managed to break the rules as to be put in the dark room two or three times. But I'm going to behave myself from now on so I can get the benefit of the three-fourths rule.

"I don't know why I've turned out so bad unless it is that it was just born in me. My mother is a good woman, only 35 years old now, a member of the Methodist church and has been married three times. She raised me right, and my father, who is a dentist, was always kind and indulgent to me. I went to the public schools in Webb City until I was 16, and then the devilment began to crop out in me. I don't know why either.

"Nobody ever taught me any wrong. I'm not like other women, either, in blaming my downfall on any man."—St. Louis Republic.

QUITE A CHARACTER.

Death of the Last Slave Sold at Auction In New Haven.

Mrs. Lois Tritton, colored, died at her home in this city Monday at the age of 95. She has long been a local celebrity from the fact that she was the last slave sold at public auction in this city in 1825. The original papers of this transaction are in the possession of ex-Governor Ingersoll and show that its purpose was to give her her freedom. The sale was by the sheriff under an execution issued on a former judgment against her owner, human goods and chattels having been levied on to satisfy an execution. The sheriff's return is dated March 10, 1825, and recites that on the 8th of March, 1825, by virtue of the execution, he sold Lucy, the mother, and Lois Tritton, the daughter, as the property of the defendant, to Anthony P. Sanford for $10. A deed of manumission from Mr. Sanford accompanies the documents.

Mrs. Tritton was born in Halifax on Christmas eve, 1799, and visited this city with a family named Tritton in 1820. It was from this family she received the name of Tritton. She returned to Nova Scotia, but came to New Haven again in 1824 or 1825, and after being sold to Mr. Sanford was given her liberty. She has resided here ever since and was a member of Trinity Episcopal church.—New Haven Special.

Application of the Cheap John Principle In a Chicago Police Court.

"Well, if you want to pay the fine, it will be $5. If you don't want to pay, it will be $10. Now, which will you have?"

This is the way in which justice is dispensed in the Desplaines street police court. A dicker is made, if possible, with the prisoner in the dock, much on the same principle as goods are sold on the bargain counter of a Cheap John store.

Last night Thomas Gibbons, a teamster, bought a chicken sandwich from a peddler at the corner of Desplaines and Meridian streets, and after eating the same refused to pay for it. Officer Ullmacher felt called upon to arrest him, and he was arraigned before Justice Doyle in the Desplaines street court this morning. After telling all the details of the transaction the officer said:

"And when he was searched at the station he had two $5 bills, your honor."

At this remark Justice Doyle brightened up, and grasping his pen said:

"Is that so? Did you have $10?"

Gibbons pleaded guilty to the charge of having an unusual amount of money for a Desplaines street prisoner, and the court continued:

"Well, I'll make it $5 if you want to pay, but if not the fine will be $10. Which will you have?"

"If I have been guilty of any wrongdoing, I am willing to pay, but"——

"That will do. Take $5, Mr. Clerk."

"But I don't think I am guilty, and I don't propose to pay a fine," remarked the prisoner.

"Oh, very well," said Justice Doyle. "You can make it $10, Mr. Clerk. Take him down stairs," and the prisoner was led away to await the arrival of the bridewell bus.—Chicago Dispatch.

Order of Adjudication of Insolvency.

In the Superior Court of the County of Fresno, State of California.

In the matter of F. D. Rosendahl, an insolvent debtor.

F. D. ROSENDAHL HAVING FILED IN THIS court his petition, schedule and inventory in insolvency, from which it appears that he is an insolvent debtor, the said F. D. Rosendahl is hereby declared to be insolvent. It is hereby ordered that Jay Scott, sheriff of said county, be, and he is hereby appointed receiver of the property of said insolvent, and that upon his giving a bond to the people of the State of California, conditioned as required by law, and in such sum as the court may order, and qualifying, he take charge and possession of all of the estate, real and personal, of said insolvent debtor, whatsoever and wheresoever situate, except such as may be by law exempt from execution, and of all his deeds, vouchers, books of account and papers, and to keep and care for and dispose of the same until the appointment of an assignee of his estate. All persons having the same or any part thereof (including the sheriff of the said County of Fresno) in his or their possession, are hereby directed to deliver said property to said receiver, and all persons owing money to said insolvent are hereby directed to pay the same to said receiver, and that said receiver keep the said property, or the proceeds thereof, till the further order of this court, and all persons are hereby forbidden to pay any debts to said insolvent, or to deliver any property belonging to such insolvent, to him, or to any person, firm, corporation or association, for his use, and the said debtor is hereby forbidden to transfer or deliver any property until the further order of this court, except as herein ordered.

It is further ordered, that all the creditors of said debtor be and appear before the Hon. S. A. Holmes, Judge of the Superior Court of the said County of Fresno, in open court at the court room of said court, in the said County of Fresno, on the 20th day of October, 1894, at 10 o'clock a.m., of that day, to prove their debts and choose one or more assignees of the estate of said debtor.

It is further ordered, that this order be published in the Fresno Morning Republican, a daily newspaper of general circulation, published in the said county of Fresno, as often as the said paper is published, before the day set for the meeting of creditors.

And it is further ordered, that, in the meantime, all proceedings against said insolvent be stayed.

S. A. HOLMES,
Judge of the Superior Court.
